The following is a message from Lindsay Swadling who recently left our community and will be missed by many.

I left Greenethorpe a couple of months ago now and intended to put an article in the newsletter about my move but haven't managed it until now.

I was sorry to leave Greenethorpe, as I had thought that I would live out the rest of my life there, but as John Lennon is reputed to have said, "Life is what happens to you while you're making other plans".

After mum's death last year, I inherited some money and was able to look around for another place. I have heard rumours that I moved to Young, into my mum's house - no, she lived in Sydney all her life, so that was wrong.

I wanted to stay in the area, and chose Harden because it:

1. is only an hour from number 1 son in Belconnen

2. is on the railway line to Melbourne, where

number 2 son lives

3. is still cheap enough that I could buy a place

I'm still on the same phone number and email address if anyone wants to contact me.

best wishes to all
 Lindsay

Have you been to the Rustic Maze? The kiddies and I had a lovely few hours there recently and we can highly recommend it. The maze features some interesting items and there is a riddle to be solved. Lovely gardens, friendly staff, beautiful views and it's just a few paddocks from Greenethorpe! Have a look at the website for opening hours and pricing.

CIRCA 1935 CAFÉ

is holding an art competition for children primary school age and under in the village and surrounds. Each child will be given a wooden palette and the theme of the competition is "Greenethorpe". Draw or paint a picture, that represents Greenethorpe, on your palette. It can be a landscape, wildlife, farm related, a building, family or friends or another subject that relates to our village.

Age Groups and Prizes as follows:

Under 5 years

$10 gift voucher from Discount Dave's

6 – 9 years

$15 gift voucher from Discount Dave's

10 – 12 years

$20 gift voucher from Discount Dave's

Palettes can be picked up at the post office.

Greenethorpe primary school students will receive a palette through the school.

Entries close on June 30th and winners will be announced at Circa Café Pizza Night on Wednesday 4th July.

After judging, the palettes will be varnished and used as placemats in the café so your art will be on display for all the customers!

AAG newsletter welcomes sponsorship from the community so if you've been thinking about contributing, now is a good time. Cost is $20
